

Photography in the Gardens 2021

What a great year for the Munsinger Clemens Photography in the Gardens contest. This year we had a great turnout and the online submission process allows for people to enter the contest at any time throughout the year. No need to print out your photos. We think that this provides an easy and effective way for all visitors to the gardens to quickly enter their photos. Due to Covid, we did not have an awards ceremony this year. Instead, we displayed and announced the winners on our Facebook page and are displaying the winning photos in this newsletter.

There was so many great photos of the gardens entered that we will continue to share photos that were entered throughout the coming year. Each photographer shows their vision of the gardens through their photos and we couldn't ask for a better way to share the gardens with you. We want to thank everyone who entered their photos. By entering you are supporting the Munsinger Clemens Botanical Society.

We want to say Congratulations to the 2021 Photography in the Gardens winners. We hope that these photos will inspire everyone to go to the gardens and take your own photos. The gardens are open in the winter too so you can start taking and entering your photos for Munsinger Clemens Photography in the Gardens 2022 contest.

Looking For Volunteers To Help Plan Our Events And Join Our Board

The board is in need of volunteers for serving on the Board of Directors beginning March 2022. The board members are all volunteers that help bring support to the gardens through annual memberships and the planning of the events in the gardens such as Music, Art Fair and Photo Contest. A rewarding community organization.

Munsinger Clemens Botanical Society is a non-profit that plans events in the gardens as well as raising money to help support the gardens. You would not be gardening at Munsinger or Clemens Gardens but helping with events. Please contact us if you would like additional information.
